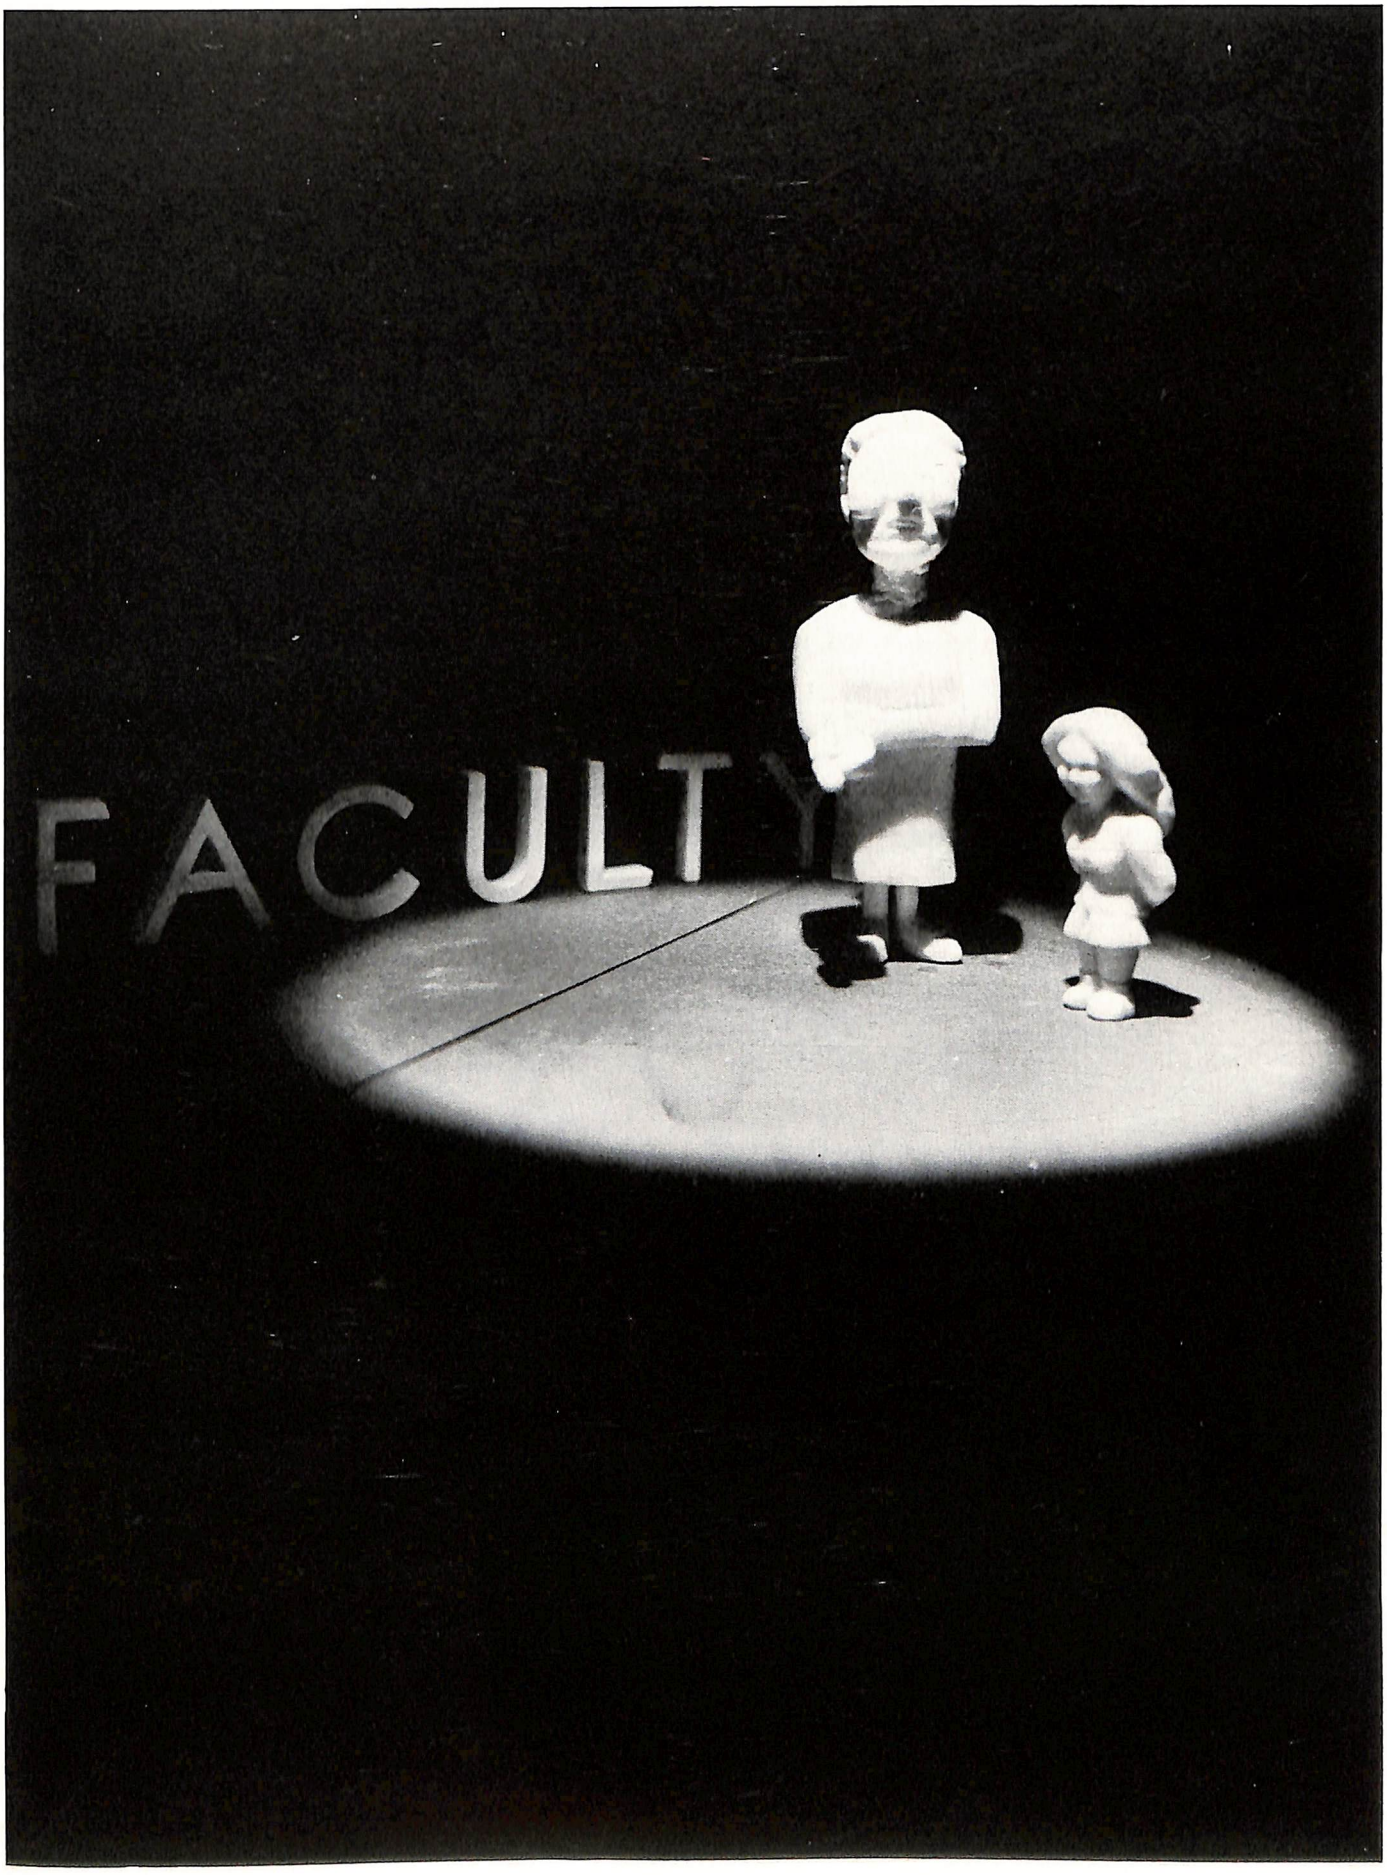
GEORGE IRWIN ROHRBOUGH

D E D I C A T I O N

This Echo of 1943 is dedicated to the President of Monticello College, Dr. George Irwin Rohrbough. His faith in youth and belief that the future belongs to those who prepare for it, is the inspiration guiding those girls who come to him not only as students, but as friends.



FACULTY

A WISH FOR EACH SENIOR

I wish for you a flexible mind — a tenacious, wiry philosophy of life that never permits you to buckle in the middle and give up! I wish for you a deepening appreciation of plain living and high thinking! May you ever see life clearly and may life always bring you of its most durable satisfactions.

May happy memories of Monticello days come back to you with the tenderness of the years upon them. May those memories light you a happy pathway through the stern days to come.

We're unhappy about those few who were unable to make appointments with the photographer. Better luck next time.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

To carry on the fine class spirit that is part of Monticello's tradition, this year at the Washington Birthday Banquet, the junior class announced Nancy Pat Davis the new class president, Ann Jaquith, vice-president, Kathleen O'Brien, secretary and Jean Cody, treasurer. With such a wise choice of leaders the class will most assuredly live up to the trust of all those who have had the privilege of going before them.

The war has made many changes in our lives. The Echo official photographer was unable to return to the campus to take the pictures of girls who entered at mid-semester or of those who missed him when he was here. We are sorry but know that our photographer, Maryette Charlton, has given us a reasonable likeness.

Here's a great big welcome to the girls who entered Monticello at mid-semesters! We're glad you're here with us and we know that you'll love Monti as we do. And to all you who missed the photographer—our apologies.

Sponsors greet the newcomers with open arms, playing big sister until the fear of a new experience fades into the thrill and pleasure of calling Monticello "my school." The Sponsors, chosen for their admirable citizenship, help the girls to become adjusted in September and to remain happy throughout the whole year. The Sponsors have been under the leadership of Crystal Nay.

WAR EFFORT COUNCIL

Jean Evans, Chairman of the War Effort Council

The War Effort Council guides Monticello's war activities which this year included the M.S.O., Monticello Student Organization. The council is also a medium for raising the morale of the present and planning for the future. The officers this year are: Jean Evans, president, and Ann Lenzen, secretary.

WAR ACTIVITIES

Last Christmas the students bought defense stamps which they decorated as ornaments for the tree. These stamps were then turned into a bond which was presented to the college.

Miss Mason leads a group of Commandoes in calisthenics. The Commando course includes all the exercises and drills used by the WAVES in their training.

Every Tuesday and Friday Monticello students work at bandage rolling at the Godfrey church. Ann Lenzen is in charge of this project.

The captains of three of our teams are working in the victory garden. We have three acres of victory garden which the students have planted and tended.

With the exception of Sunday, every afternoon and evening finds some student selling Defense Stamps and Bonds by the Echo Counter and at the Cabin.

International Relations Club

Frances Hoover, President

The I.R.C. brings speakers to the campus, keeps students informed on current events, maintains a reading shelf in the library, and with various other activities helps to keep Monticello up-to-date in this war world. Its officers are: Frances Hoover, president; Josephine Radcliffe, vice-president; Martha Appel, secretary-treasurer.

The Science Club, advised by Miss Elizabeth Gulick, meets once a month to discuss new theories and discoveries and to extend the "scientific attitude" to the student body of Monticello. The club entertained the student body at a Barn Dance in the spring to bring their year to a close.

Members of the Drama Club

DRAMA CLUB

Scenes from "Letters To Lucerne," a play describing life in a women's college in war-torn Europe.

Membership in the Drama Club is based on work in previous productions or by try-outs. With the aid of Miss Julia Harned, it sponsored a one-act play. All its work is done for the purpose of furthering the interest in drama on the Monticello campus.

"Ladies In Retirement," a spectacular play of suspense and mood.

MONTICELLO ART ASSOCIATION

The Monticello Art Association is composed of students interested in art and who are taking work in the art department. The Association has brought members of the entire student body into contact with a variety of art forms by means of the several travelling exhibits which have been displayed in the Arcade.

The highlight of the year was the open house held in the art studios at which student work was displayed. The open house gave all students an opportunity to "look in" on work done in the art department.

Finishing up murals depicting the history of Monticello which appear on the walls of one of the art studios.

Guests at the open house inspect student work at close range.

The Book Fair

PEGASUS CLUB

Finding your way around a library is often quite a task, but Monti has a Pegasus Club, composed of the library staff and the librarian, Miss Hardin, that gives helpful service to a bewildered student. This year the club sponsored a book fair that was colorful as well as exciting and educational. For once food was a minor attraction.

SPORTS

M. A. A. BOARD

Jane McLaughlin

Every student at Monticello is a member of the Monticello Athletic Association. The Association is governed by a board consisting of four officers and the manager of each campus sport. M.A.A. offers an equal opportunity to all students who wish to participate in the voluntary sports program regardless of proficiency.

Jane McLaughlin, president
Edna Lea Burruss, vice-president
Ruth Wilber, secretary
Sally Philpott, treasurer
Ann Hampton, riding manager
Mildred Crandall, modern dance manager
Barbara Burruss, bicycle manager
Martha Wright, hockey manager
Evelyn Fentem, basketball manager
Jane Anderson, archery manager
Pat McClelland, swimming manager
Eunice Larson, golf and badminton manager
Pauline Lewis, tennis manager

ARCHERY

Jane Anderson, Archery Manager

Variety has been the keynote of the archery program this year. It was offered both as a fall and a spring sport and as a class sport and part of the voluntary sports program.

Novelty and clout tournaments as well as archery golf were added attractions for the Monticello "Robinette Hoods."

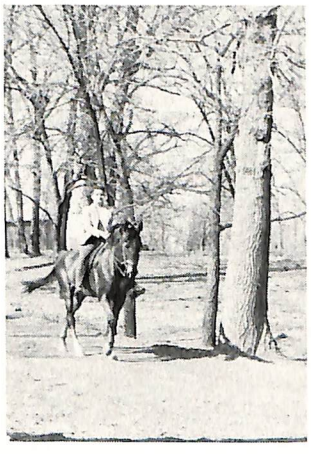
Archery teams participated in the Tri-College Sports Day at Lindenwood College and met Lindenwood again on the Monticello campus in a contest between the two colleges.

RIDING

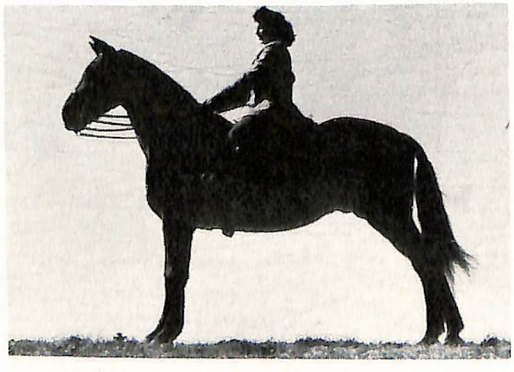
Pat Savage and Brown Betty

Riding was more popular this year at Monti than ever before. Ring and trail riding as well as English and Western technique, and driving singles and doubles were all part of the regular class work. Riding team competitions were held with MacMurray and Lindenwood during the year.

Dot and Beth Dennis, riding in pairs.



Libby Kennedy trots back campus.



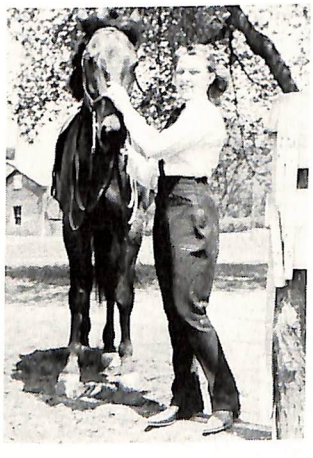
Adrienne Ahlgren "parks" her horse.

Sara Ford Dallmeyer and Laura Belle Means trot and canter around the ring.

HOBBY HORSE

Eddie and Babbie Burruss trot around the ring.

Ann Hampton, President of Hobby Horse



Beth Dennis and Rummy

Hobby Horse took in a large number of new members this year. Sunday morning rides were popular when the weather permitted. Members participated in the Tri-College competitions and also sponsored a demonstration for the parents on Thanksgiving Day. Ann Hampton was president of Hobby Horse and Ruth Wilber acted as the riding manager.

The riding demonstration given at Thanksgiving.

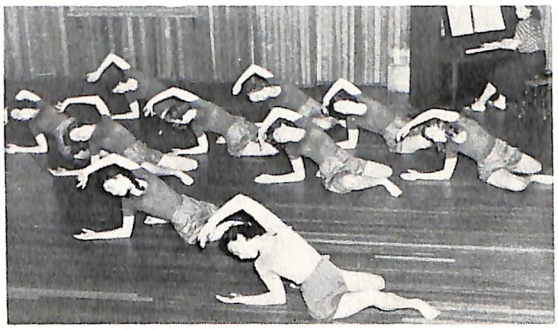
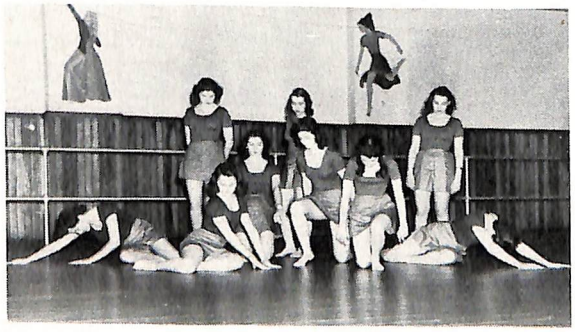
MODERN DANCE

The activities of modern dance have been varied. An exhibition of techniques was presented for the parents at Thanksgiving, and later an informal demonstration was held in the Dance Studio. The Dance Club participated in the Candle Light Service at Christmas and in the spring presented a dance drama entitled "The Changing Frontier." Mildred Crandall was the very efficient manager who guided the Dance Club in its many activities this year.



A modern dance class practices back arches with side stretches and side lunges.



Rehearsals for the dance drama. The choreography was done by the members of the Dance Club with the aid of Miss Marjorie Lew Kay.

Scenes from the Candle Light Service given at Christmas.

SOFTBALL

Softball, offered at Monticello for the first time last year, has risen to a place of primary importance in Monticello sports. It was played both in class and voluntarily. Two teams were chosen, and a series of competitions were held between these teams. We regret that it was only a spring sport, and we were unable to take any pictures of the teams.

TENNIS

Pauline Lewis, Tennis Manager

Ann Shaw, Nancy Pat Davis, Peggy Parkinson, and Sukie Jackson go out for a set of doubles.

Ruth Sumner, one of our excellent players, steps out for a game of tennis.

Tennis was offered both as a fall and spring sport this year and was a favorite for class work as well as a voluntary sport. The tennis team went to Principia in the fall for a lively tournament, and faculty-student tournaments were also held.

GOLF

Eunice Larson, Golf Manager

Golf was popular this year at Monti during both the spring and fall seasons. The college team took numerous trips to the Muni Golf course in Alton and competed in the Tri-College sports competition held at Lindenwood in the spring.

A golf class practices "driving."

Marcia Nead and Mary Colvert drive down the fairway.

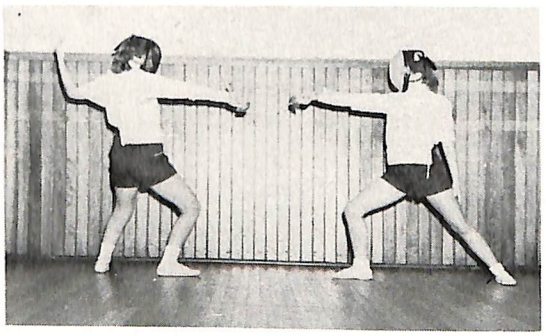
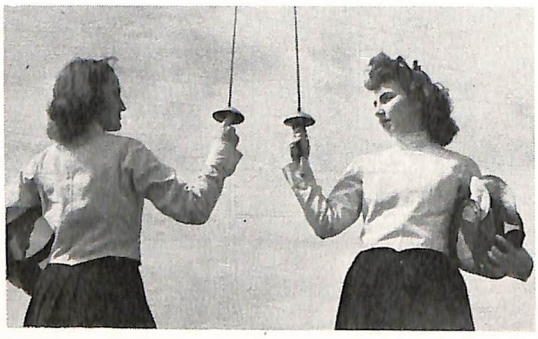
FENCING

Fencing thrust itself into the fall sports season and continued through the winter. Monti's fencing classes "parried" and "counter-parried" in numerous trial bouts and learned fencing from "salute" to end.

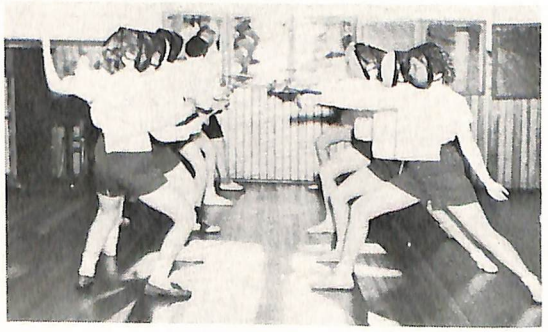
Ann Ebert is one of our most outstanding fencers.



Two fencers exhibit a promising skill.



Ann Ebert and Wini Bowen "salute" each other before a match.



A fencing class is given instructions in the art of parrying and lunging.

HOCKEY

Hockey was offered this year as a class and voluntary sport. Intra-mural competitions were held between the "Black" and "Gold" teams. The College team played a game with Principia. Games were played between the Prep and College teams and between Junior and Senior Class teams. The season was brought to an end with the annual Sports Banquet.

Martha Wright, hockey manager and captain of the "Gold" Intra-mural team; Jean Lyons, captain of College team; and Ann Shaw, captain of the "Black" Intra-mural team, relax a little after a game.

"Sis" Stockton and Ann Shaw race down the field after the ball.

Barbara Chartier is determined to prevent the other team from making a goal.

"Stubby" Fentem, Basketball Manager

BASKETBALL

The turnout for voluntary basketball was so large this year that three college intra-mural teams and one prep team were chosen. Pat McClelland's "Graveyard Shift" played the "P43's" captained by Jean Maeys and Gail Hamilton's "WABT's" played Jean Cody's "BB's." The college team played Lindenwood at the Tri-College Sports Day held at Monticello this spring. A faculty-student game was played and the season was closed with the Winter Sports Banquet.

"Stubby" Fentem shoots for a basket.

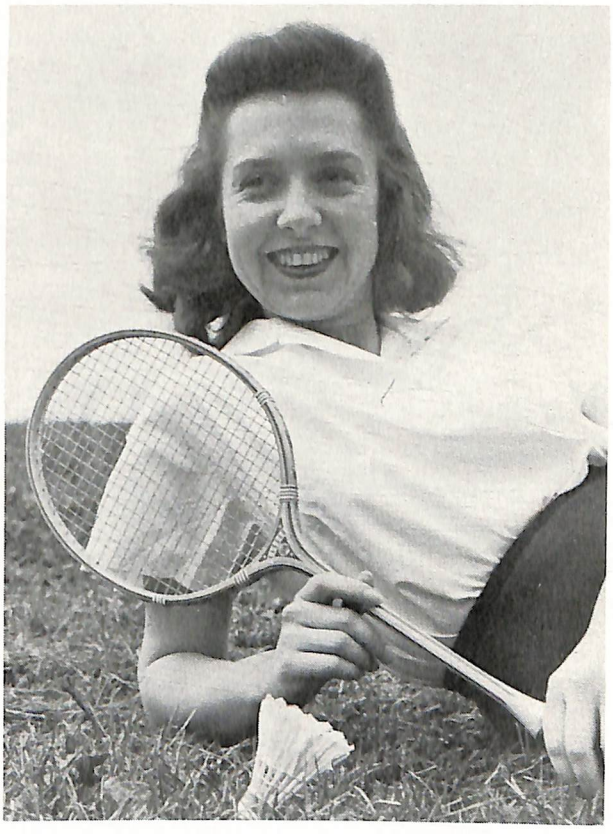
Monticello plays MacMurray at the Tri-College Sports Day.

BADMINTON

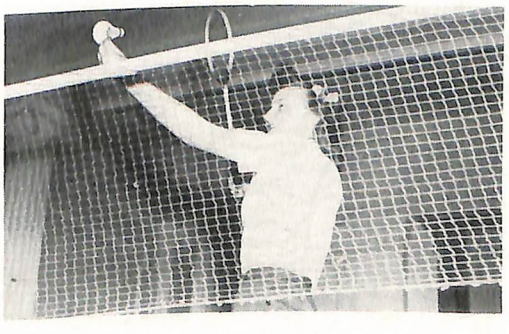
Badminton is one of Monti's more popular winter sports, and the "birds" fly all winter long in the Entertainment Hall. At the end of the winter sport season a badminton tournament was held at which every girl tried her skill.



Betty Mather is an enthusiastic badminton player.

Jean Spence seems to be a formidable opponent.

Dale Wynkoop twirls the racquet to decide upon the server.

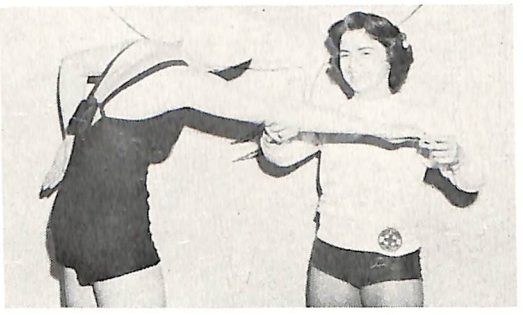


Shirley Cooter hits the "birdie."

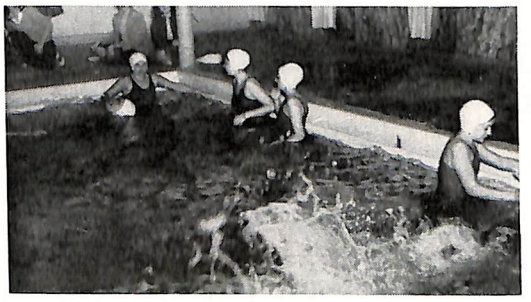
SWIMMING

Swimming was more popular than ever this year with Monticello students, and there was an increased interest in life-saving and swimming as a voluntary sport. Several inter-class meets were held and preparatory school members participated in a National Telegraphic meet. Monticello took high honors in the aquatic division of the Tri-College Sports Meet held in the Monticello pool between swimmers from Lindenwood, MacMurray and Monticello.

"Sis" Stockton does a swan dive.



"Stubby" Fentem giving a lesson.



Someone made a big splash.

MARLIN CLUB

Try-outs for membership in Marlin Club were held soon after the opening of school. With enthusiasm the group held "swimming clinics," obstacle races and planned "Injun Injunity," the annual water production, which they gave in the Monticello pool and in the Y.W.C.A. pool for Alton friends and alumnae.

Marlin Club board members are: Pat McClelland, president; Ann Shaw, vice-president; Yvonne Hayes, secretary and treasurer; Edna Lea Burruss, pageant chairman; Martha Stein, publicity chairman; and Evelyn Fentem, meet chairman.

THE BICYCLE CLUB

Barbara Burruss, Manager of the Bicycle Club

Jo Radcliffe brings a bike out for a ride.

Monti's lassies explore the country with the aid of the Bicycle Club. For the many girls who love to ride and for those who would like to become proficient, the Bicycle Club has been very popular. Mr. Homer Young is the faculty advisor of this organization which is celebrating its second year.

Edi Mart and Maggie Green keep the wheels rolling.

Sally Berryhill, Betty Hermes, and Barbara Berry go out for a short jaunt.

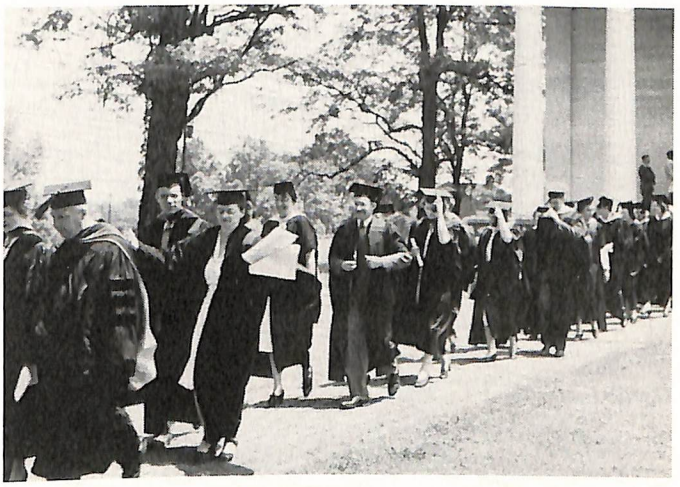
Monticello's daughters (Class of '42) take their final leave of the campus. Poignant memories remain of those last few busy days —Class day exercises and tree planting, the academic procession, Commencement and farewells. Another group of Monticello students leaves the campus, but never will they leave behind Monticello for they are always loyal Monti alumnae and always a part of the life and growth of their alma mater.



AU REVOIR

The one hundred and fifth year at Monticello has been one of outstanding accomplishments. We are now in the second year of one of the greatest struggles between nations the world has ever experiencd. It has changed many of our lives. It is making us more mature.

Our account of what we have done is set down in this book. It may not be accurate, but it does show a glimpse of our crowded days.

Classes will come and go for years to come. We feel that our ideas and ideals are best expressed in the Junior Class song, "Ours Forevermore."

Each and every Monti girl will always have a place

For the lasting friendships, the smile on every face,

The campfires in the evening,

The serenading, too,

These thoughts will keep reminding us of you;

The fountain court in springtime

The chapel in the snow,

May the bells up in that steeple always chime.

When we are far away from all this we adore,

Then's the time we'll think of all the fun we've had before,

Of tears we shed at parting,

Of memories so haunting,

Oh, Monticello, ours forevermore.

Our thanks for a glorious year! There will always be in us a part that is forever Monticello.
